

Journalism: Article Briefs

- Publication details

Title: Asset Management

Distribution: The Times newspaper and The Times iPad Edition, also on www.raconteur.net

Target Publication Date: 29th March 2018

- Article 3 – Asset management’s effect on the environment

Word count: 900w

Writer: Jim McClelland

Increasingly, businesses have a responsibility to be aware of the impact they are having on the environment. How can greater sustainability be achieved by effective asset management? Are there practices, such as the recycling of assets, that businesses are choosing in order to improve their carbon footprint? Are there particular industries in which recycling is prevalent, and to great success? What further needs to be done to encourage such activities (i.e. do governments have incentives in place to encourage companies to recycle their assets)?

[NOTE: This is a global-facing feature, not UK-focused]